Richard Bodin
Battalion Chief / Training
Port Arthur Fire Department

Dear Candidate:

The Port Arthur Fire Department Physical Agility Test consists of six tasks that firefighters perform on most fire scenes. The tasks are laid out to form a course. One time through the course makes one evolution. The tasks are: dummy drag, hose transfer, bucket carry, tunnel crawl, Kaiser Sled, and the cone slalom. While performing the test, candidates will be wearing full firefighter personal protective equipment (PPE) including a Self-Contained Breathing Apparatus (SCBA). In order to pass the agility test, the candidate must complete six evolutions around the course before running out of air. Below is a description of each task.

Task #1: Dummy Drag.

- Drag a 180# dummy approximately 25 feet.
- This task simulates rescuing a victim or down firefighter.

Task #2: Hose Transfer

- Move two sections of 2 ½" fire hose, one at a time from one table to another
- This task simulates moving heavy objects inside a structure

Task #3: Bucket Carry

- Carry two weighted five gallon buckets 25 feet.
- This task simulates carrying equipment such as saws and blowers on the fire ground

Task #4: Tunnel Crawl

- Crawl through an 8-foot tunnel
- This task simulates crawling through confined spaces

Task#5: Kaiser Sled

- Move the Kaiser Sled pre-determined length
- This task simulates forcible entry into a structure as well as checking for fire extension

Task#6: Cone Slalom

- Weave Through Cone Slalom and Move Tennis Balls from One Side to the Other
- This task demonstrates the ability to perform simple tasks while wearing SCBA and PPE and test the dexterity of the Firefighter under stress.
